

GENNADIY DRUZENKO

Gennadiy Druzenko is Director for Central and Eastern Europe of Williams WorldWide Group.

His education in Kyiv included a Diploma in Theology from Christian Theological College (1993), Bachelor of Law from International Science and Technology University (1999), and Master of Law from Kyiv National Taras Shevchenko University (2000) both cum laude. He received an LL.M. in European Law from the University of Aberdeen (2008), was a Fulbright-Kennan Institute Research Scholar at the Kennan Institute in Washington, DC (2009-10) and a Research Fellow at the at the Max Planck Institute for Comparative Public Law and International Law in Heidelberg, Germany (2010).

Mr. Druzenko worked for the Ministry of Justice of Ukraine as a deputy director of the European and Comparative Law Center in 2001-2004 and for Ukrainian Parliament as the head of staff of the Committee on European Integration in 2010-2011.

He has publishes a number of articles on religious freedom in Ukrainian as well as in English, Russian and Spanish.